INTERNET HOSTING SERVICES THAT ARE GOOD FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

Websites live in a Data Center. And Data Centers are not the best thing for the environment. Servers generate large amounts of heat, which must be cooled via massive air conditioners. Running 24/7, they also require high amounts of electricity.

Now there's an alternative. With our Green Hosting solutions, you can still maintain your Internet presence knowing you are doing your part to help reduce carbon emissions.

Changing your hosting alone won't change the world, but it is one step in the fight against global climate change.
